

BOATING ROUNDUP

Lavallette Y.C.

LAVALLETT — In weather traditional for the 50 years of competition for the Archbald Cup, Bill Harjes of Beachwood Yacht Club sailed his Black Sheep to a slim victory over the Bay Wolf, sailed by Tom Wickenden, Mantoloking, yesterday in the classic for 15-ft. sneakboxes.

Stc my weather, high winds, and heavy rains prevailed during yesterday morning's race. Six of the 28 boats that started failed to complete the 6.9-mile course. A 27-mile puffy wind and a downpour of rain accounted for the poor starts.

In the initial start, three-quarters of the boats beat the gun and all were recalled. In the second start, four of the crafts beat the gun, and one of them, the DD-17, skippered by Cliff Campbell of Beachwood, crossed the finish line first but was disqualified.

Dick Switlik, Seaside Park, was third in the Savage.

Beachwood Y.C.

BEACHWOOD — Tom Chapman yesterday sailed his Redskin to victory to win the first offering of the Commodore William Lemon Trophy for E-Sloops.

Chapman finished the blustery 14-mile course ahead of his brother, Buzz, and Jack Pierce.

The trophy, put up for the first time, was presented by William Lemon, a past commodore of the Beachwood Yacht Club, sponsor of the races on the Toms River.

Bob Valdes won the senior Jet race after Tim Hoyt, who finished first, was disqualified. Second place went to Richie Dell, and third to Frank Tubrity Sr.

Jack Moody won the Sneakbox race. Hank Boyer was second, and Bonnie Wiencke third.

Forty-five boats participated in L

the races, last of the summer series. Skippers will compete next weekend for trophies awarded by the Yacht Club Ladies Auxiliary.
